Full power
due to hydrogen

Hydrogen – a small atom with strong powers

EVObooster enriches water with molecular hydrogen. After drinking, odour- and colourless hydrogen gas is distributed all across your body.

As hydrogen is the smallest element of the period system, it penetrates each cell and acts as the strongest selective and natural antioxidant.

Enriched with hydrogen, Evodrop water is vital to a healthy body and mind.

With our EVObooster, we bet on worldwide patented, electrophysical technology and enrich water with molecular hydrogen.

Operating principle

EVObooster's unique electrolysis separates hydrogen molecules from oxygen molecules in water.

Unlike in conventional ionisers, a surplus of oxygen molecules is brought outside the unit without adding it to drinking water. Hydrogen gas is introduced into drinking water, and water with a large proportion of molecular hydrogen is formed.

Our technology ensures a constant percentage of hydrogen throughout the whole life of the unit. Enjoy unlimited and freshly prepared hydrogen water from your water tap whenever you want to.

After EVObooster, your drinking water contains plenty of molecular hydrogen (H<sub>2</sub>) with high energy potential and antioxidative properties. Hydrogen gas evaporates after approx. 12-24 hours. Therefore, you should drink hydrogen-enriched water within this time.

The whole reaction looks like this:

we are water

Hydrogen in your body

Hydrogen water immediately lands in cell mitochondria, where energy is produced. Once there, it binds to hydroxyl radicals, the most harmful of free radicals in your body. Hydrogen turns hydroxyl radicals into water, which is easily eliminated from your body. Thus, oxidative stress is reduced.

A reduction in oxidative stress brings along multiple advantages. It inhibits inflammation and helps to relieve diseases and injuries. Many studies have proven that regeneration times can be shortened by up to 50%. In addition, it has been demonstrated that significantly less lactate (which stimulates blood circulation) is produced when doing sports. Furthermore, a substantial increase in cognitive abilities, brain functions and performance of the whole nervous system can be observed.

A healthy body produces 10-12 litres of hydrogen gas a day. Hydrogen stimulates the anaerobic microflora, or good bacteria, which thus gain more power, and assists the body in producing more hydrogen on its own.

A small example

The antioxidative effect of one litre of hydrogen water corresponds to that of ten lemons (compare: H<sub>2</sub> weighs 2g/mol, whereas vitamin C 176.2g/mol).

Hydrogen permeates both aqueous and fat-rich environments. Hydrogen can reach even those areas of your body which are otherwise hardly accessible: brain, eyes, cell nucleus, cell organelles such as mitochondria and Golgi apparatus.

Hydrogen is beneficial in ...

Your everyday benefits

More health

Molecular hydrogen has been proven to improve health. It relieves high blood pressure, inflammations and allergies, promotes metabolic functions and helps cure 170 other conditions.

Anti-Aging

Hydrogen reduces natural cell death in your body. Consequently, it helps rejuvenate and repair your skin and cells.

Alkaline effect

With its alkaline effect, hydrogen stabilises the pH value of the blood. It alleviates acidosis in your body, ensuring a stable acid-alkaline balance.

Small and strong atom

Hydrogen is the smallest and most frequent molecule in our universe. It has the potential of acting at cellular level. It permeates not only the mitochondria but also the cell nucleus.

Improved concentration

Hydrogen can easily cross the blood-brain barrier and improves cognitive abilities and brain functions.

Absolutely safe

In the US, hydrogen has been granted by the Food and Drugs Administration (FDA) GRAS status. Accordingly, it is absolutely harmless to drink, and recognised as generally safe.

Strong antioxidant

More than 450 independent studies have shown that hydrogen has a beneficial effect on the health of the human body. Hydrogen is the strongest selective antioxidant.

More energy in everyday life

An increased proportion of free electrons in water kind of discharges your body. This provides you with high energy potential all day long.

Full power

Trials in athletes show that you can substantially improve your performance, fitness, recovery and health by taking molecular hydrogen.

No side effects whatsoever

Unlike conventional food supplements, hydrogen leaves no waste in your body. Instead, it is exuded as normal water.

Installation & maintenance

Flexible all around

This installation allows you to choose between hydrogen water and normally treated water.

Note

Untreated tap water (which partially contains chlorine and lime) must not be directly connected to the generator.

Untreated tap water can damage EVObooster and impair its functions.

To ensure maximum life of EVObooster, we recommend installing EVOdrink before the hydrogen generator.

When is maintenance done?

After every 2,500 litres the EVObooster signals a checkpoint. After four checkpoints (10,000 litres) the EVObooster should be replaced.

Why is replacement needed?

After 10,000 litres EVObooster's cathode and anode are almost used up and release increasingly less hydrogen into water.

Costs

When maintenance is due, you can get a CHF 300 discount off the list price of a brand-new EVObooster of the latest generation.
